

Thank you to our 23 million guests worldwide

Hotels the way you like them

The week in pictures

REUTERS/Valentin Flaureau

Actress Laurence Iseli performs during a rehearsal of the musical 'Robots' at the Barnabe Theatre in Servion, Switzerland.

Picture This: our photo editor's blog

FROM £39
per room per night

See website

BOOK NOW

ibishotel.com

Hotels the way you like them

Today on MSN UK News

Swine flu outbreak: special report

Health experts are on high alert to prevent the spread of a new human strain of the swine flu virus which has killed 103 people in Mexico. Cases have been reported in the Spain and the US.

Weekend sport winners and losers

Which sporting stars replicated the stunning success of British boxer Carl Froch and who had performances they'd rather forget? We reveal the weekend's sporting winners and losers.

The world's toughest races

While the prospect of running 26 miles may sound daunting, the London Marathon is far from the world's most physically punishing race. We take a look at some other contenders from around the world.

History retweets itself

As Henry VIII Tweets the death of his father, MSN imagines how other historic figures might have tweeted major events during their lifetimes, in 140 characters or less, had the technology been available.

Nuclear power sites

The UK relies on atomic energy for nearly 20% of its electricity. Our graphic shows